Alexis Lehrman
My inspiration for baking comes from my Grandma Linda of blessed memory. She was into all things elegant and refined. A gourmet cook, her educated palette and love of collecting and creating her own recipes made her unbeatable in the kitchen. Always an enchanting hostess, I loved watching her create the most mouthwatering meals beautifully displayed on elegant table settings. The fact that she made it all look effortless is a bonus cooking life lesson. A few flowers here, a couple of silver accents there. Poof. Fabulousness. I served as her trusted sous chef until we lost her to breast cancer. On occasion I'd catch my widowed Grandfather looking through her recipe boxes and notebooks, cherishing her handwritten notes, so I made an extra effort to always cook his favorite recipes of hers. His delight with each bite filled my heart with gratitude for the gift of love she gave me as a baker.

VIDALIA SINK HOLE REPAIR

The corner of Concordia Avenue and Elm Street has a massive sink hole. They must wait til the river levels subside before they can repair them said Buz Craft. It would make for a dangerous situation for our workers to do it with such high water levels. It is to dangerous for buses and heavy trucks to travel in the area. Hopefully this will be fixed soon.
